

Capture the eerie charm of “spooky” nostalgia or the quiet power of storytelling through hands. Link to inspiration

1. Spooky Nostalgia

•Objective: Capture four images that create a creepy, old-school vibe without being overly scary. Think of classic Halloween with shadows, old buildings, foggy mornings, or eerie objects.

•Instructions: Try different angles and lighting to make each image feel like part of an old horror movie. Aim for variety—maybe one close-up, one silhouette, and one wide shot for atmosphere.

•Deliverable: Upload four photos to redwood.photography with a one-sentence caption for each, explaining what makes it spooky.

For capturing “Spooky Nostalgia,” try photographing at the CSF Trunk or Treat event or on Halloween night. Both offer perfect chances to capture eerie lighting, creative costumes, and that classic Halloween atmosphere. Look for scenes with fog, glowing jack-o’-lanterns, or groups of people in shadowy settings to really nail the spooky vibe.

2. Hands with Purpose

•Objective: Tell a story using hands in four photos. Capture hands doing something meaningful, like holding a friend’s hand, sketching, or building something. Show how hands can say a lot without words.

•Instructions: Take four different shots where the hands are the focus, each telling a unique story. Play with light and positioning to show a different feeling in each photo.

•Deliverable: Upload four photos with captions that describe the story or feeling behind each shot.
